Maybe you've heard of UF/IFAS Extension, but you're not sure what we do. The short answer is, we deliver science-based information from University of Florida experts to help people.

Our audience is as large and varied as Florida's population. People often associate UF/IFAS Extension programs with agriculture, and that's a big part of our job. But there's so much more.

We help homeowners, homemakers, retirees and children with programming that can help them be healthy, save money, meet challenges and enjoy the benefits of life in the Sunshine State.

We'd like to help YOU. With offices in all 67 Florida counties, UF/IFAS Extension is never far away. And with our many online resources, we're available to help 24 hours a day, every day.
